ORGANISERS

- B2B conference of an international character gathers eminent domestic and foreign lecturers and participants from the field of health tourism
- It plays an important role in the implementation of existing theoretical knowledge and trends in practice and emphasizes the strategic importance of the development of health tourism in Croatia
- It gathers respectable domestic and foreign lecturers and participants from the fields of medicine, tourism and economy, all with the aim of getting to know new trends in tourism and medicine
- The conference is live attended by more than 150 domestic and foreign eminent experts in the field of health tourism who hold management positions in recognized health tourism institutions

Let's work together to make the CIHT conference even better and more recognizable on the map of specialized health-tourism conferences in Europe and the world
